

call_consumer_thread

```
graph LR; A[call_consumer_thread] --> B[streets_service::streets_configuration::get_string_config]
```

A diagram showing a call from a function to a configuration method. On the left, a gray rectangular box contains the text 'call_consumer_thread'. A blue arrow points from the right side of this box to the left side of a white rectangular box on the right. The white box contains the text 'streets_service::streets_configuration::get_string_config'.

streets_service::streets
_configuration::get_string_config